

A Musical Pick from Amy

April 1st – See What a Morning

Week 4 of Covid-19. Hmm. What kind of a week has it been for you? I feel like I'm on an emotional roller coaster. I prepare my work-to-do-list the evening before, and then comes the morning. Computer glitches; electronic files are not where I expect them to be; audio systems don't work so I can't answer calls. So, then I think I'll just run out to the store and get the pet's food. Oh, but I didn't call ahead, so now I have to place the order online for curbside pick up. And let's not even talk about getting the few groceries I need.

Changes are all around us and the emotions to be overwhelming. It was not much different for the disciples and followers of our Lord when He was crucified. They were saddened, shocked and perhaps, cynical. How could their Friend, Healer, Teacher be put to death for crimes uncommitted? They felt alone, out of sorts, not knowing what to do next. But, as was the custom, the women went to the tomb three days later to complete their traditional embalming of Christ's body with fragrant spices.

Can you imagine their feelings upon seeing the stone rolled away? The angels sitting on the stone? And seeing the empty tomb? Their emotions turned to jubilant joy, startling surprise and awesome assurance in their Saviour Who had risen from the dead.

See What a Morning walks the listener from the sadness and gloom of Good Friday to the glorious hope that Christ is risen from the dead. As we journey through the next few weeks of the "Covid-19 unknowns", may we take comfort in this same confidence, faith and knowledge that Jesus, our Redeemer, our Saviour and our Lord, is alive!
